

The Australian National University

The ANU-MacArthur Asia Security Initiative (ANU-MASI) Partnership

“Policy Alternatives for Integrating Bilateral and Multilateral Regional Security Approaches in the Asia Pacific”

Research Focus Areas/Group Members:

1. Processes for achieving a bilateral and multilateral security nexus in the Asia-Pacific
 - a. Dr Brendan Taylor – The Australian National University (chair)
 - b. Dr Aileen Baviera – University of the Philippines
 - c. Dr David Capie – Victoria University of Wellington
 - d. Dr Evelyn Goh – Royal Holloway, University of London
 - e. Dr Feng Han – Peking University
 - f. Prof Rikki Kersten – The Australian National University
 - g. Asst Prof Ryo Sahashi – The University of Tokyo

2. Alliance/coalition initiatives on ‘broader security’ challenges
 - a. Prof William Tow – The Australian National University (chair)
 - b. Dr Chulacheeb Chinwanno – Thammasat University, Thailand
 - c. Assoc Prof Ajin Choi – Yonsei University, South Korea
 - d. Prof Renato de Castro – De La Salle University, Philippines
 - e. Assoc Prof Ralf Emmers – Nanyang Technological University, Singapore
 - f. Prof Kiichi Fujiwara – The University of Tokyo
 - g. Prof Hugh White – The Australian National University

3. The intersection of economics and security
 - a. Prof John Ravenhill – The Australian National University (chair)
 - b. Prof Barry Desker – Nanyang Technological University, Singapore (adviser)
 - c. Prof Andrew MacIntyre – The Australian National University (adviser)
 - d. Prof Vinod K Aggarwal – University of California, Berkeley, USA
 - e. Dr Benjamin E Goldsmith – The University of Sydney
 - f. Dr Helen Nesadurai – Monash University, Malaysia
 - g. Assoc Prof Natasha Hamilton-Hart – National University of Singapore

h. Dr Andrew Phillips – The Australian National University

4. Arms control and nuclear non-proliferation

- a. Dr Robert Ayson – The Australian National University (chair)
- b. Assoc Prof Rajesh Manohar Basrur – Nanyang Technological University, Singapore
- c. Dr Bates Gill – Stockholm International Peace Research Institute
- d. Assoc Prof Ken Jimbo – Keio University, Japan
- e. Prof Chung-Min Lee – Yonsei University, South Korea
- f. Dr Rory Medcalf – The Lowy Institute for International Policy, Australia
- g. Prof Feng Zhu – Peking University

5. Case Study Teacher

- a. Prof Steven Lamy – University of Southern California, USA